

GPS Address: 3591 Leestown Rd

Join Locust Trace AgriScience Center Celebrating our 2nd Annual

Food Festival

Thursday, October 22nd 5:00 – 8:00pm

“Supporting local food producers and local restaurateurs who source local ingredients is key to growing our local food economy.”

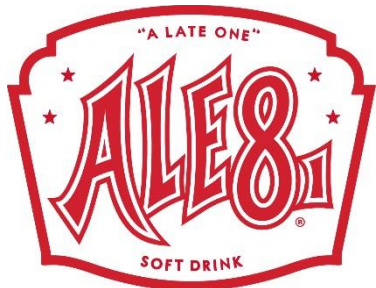

- Ashton Potter Wright, Local Food Coordinator

Experience the culinary creations of Lexington and meet the great business minds, chefs, and farmers that come together to make it all possible.

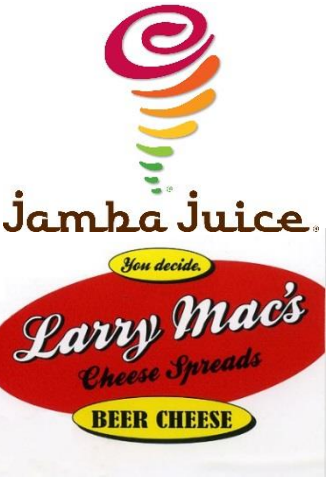

Why have a drab dinner at home when you can come out and take your pick from the best of the unique food trucks and restaurants, grocery stores and catering services around.

vinaigrette
salad kitchen

GPS Address: 3591 Leestown Rd

- Spend a few bucks to buy a full meal
- Taste test many of the free samples available
- Have an entertaining look around with a cool smoothie or a relaxing cup of coffee
- Listen to some great music from Lexington's best LexVegas DJ!
- We can guarantee that your taste buds won't be disappointed.
 - Enjoy Fun Kids Activities!!!!
 - Watch chefs perform demonstrations
 - Learn unique and fun culinary tricks
- Receive coupons
- Enter drawings
- Learn about future food events in Lexington
- Collect recipes that have been passed down in Kentucky families for generations
- See what amazing skills our FCPS students have acquired in their studies of farm to plate.

Thanks so much to our community businesses and organizations for coming out and making this event possible. Our students are so excited to host this event!

MORE restaurants, unique market vendors, and fan food favorites joining daily!

Interested in participating in Festival?

NO FEE or charges! Just come and join us!

Sell items, give samples, do demonstrations, etc.

Contact Tracy Parks @ Locust Trace Agriscience Center

Email: Tracy.Parks@fayette.kyschools.us

Cell: 859.358.8776

